Alfriston School

Hampden has a comprehensive range of school fencing and gate products, and one of our safest and most robust solutions is custom Wrought Iron panel fencing.

The staff and visitor carpark at Alfriston School is tucked away, just to the side of the main school entrance, on a very busy main road. This road sees high-volumes of traffic, including dairy trucks and other service vehicles. Wrought Iron fencing helps to ensure the safety of those using the carpark, should any vehicle have an accident and leave the road. Added high security features such as Spearhead spikes also help to provide added security to the carpark area, which is largely out of direct sight of the main office buildings.
